ORIGIN of the AMES FAMILY in AMERICA.

1913.

Compiled by Fred M. Ames.

1921.

ORIGIN of the AMES FAMILY in AMERICA.

The following copied from Bradford Kingman's History of North Bridgewater, Mass.

"First of the Ames family in this country were John and William, sons of Richard Ames of Burton Somersetshire, England. John was one of the early settlers of Bridgewater, Mass. He was married to Elizabeth Hayward, she died in 1698. No children. He deeded his large estate to his Brother William's nephew, John Ames of Braintree, Mass.

William settled at Braintree, Mass in 1640. He was born October 6, 1605 and died at Braintree, Mass on Jan. 11, 1653."

Barry's History and Temple's History, both of Framingham, Mass., Edward F. Johnson's Records of Woburn, Mass. and James Savage's New England Geneaoloigical Dictionery trace the name of Eames back to Thomas Eames who was born in England in 1618. It speaks of Anthony and Robert about the same time, and says Anthony probably was born in England. No date of birth or birthplace is given of Robert. Tradition gives us to understand that the three brothers, viz. Thomas, Anthony, and Robert, came from England although history does not verify those statements to my knowledge.

The name sometimes spelled Eames, Emmes, Emes and by some, Ames. In an old family Bible in possession of Henry Lyman Ames of Framinghan, Mass. is written on the fly leaf "Woburn, Nov. 2, 1802. Jacob Ames, His Bible." These entries are written"Ames."

"The following from James Savages New England Geneaological Dictionery which gives three generations of those who came to America before May 1692." Edition of 1860 Eames, Emmes, sometimes spelled Emes. Wm Ward of Marlboro, Mass. (who married Hannah widow Gershom Eames, Sept 4 or 6, 1679) in Geneaological Register, Vol. 8, p 240, spells the name, Heames.

Anthony of Charlestown 1634. Hingham 1636, freeman March 9, 1637, representative that year and following,and in 1643 was lieutenant and about his choice as captain grew the fierce controversey that long convulsed the colony. He removed to Marshfield, Mass. and was representative in Plymouth colony most of the time between 1653 and 1661, included and perhaps was father of John, who died at Hingham in 1641 and of Mark. His daughter, Margery married John Jacobs, Oct. 20, 1653.

Anthony of Marshfield, Mass. maybe grandson of preceding married Mercy Sawyer, Dec. 2, 1686.

Daniel, Andover, Mass. sonof Robert married April 25, 1683.

Lydia Wheeler perhaps was of Boxford, 1692.

Gershom, Marlboro, Mass. by wife Hannah had Hannah born 16[illegible]. Mary Posthum 1677. He died at Watertown, Mass. Nov. 25, 1676. Hiw widow was daughter of Solomon Johnson married Sept. 4 or 6, 1679, William Ward of Marlboro Mass. She died Dec. 8, 1720, aged 64 yrs.

Henry of Boston messenger of the General Court freeman 1684 by wife Eliza had William born 1674, John, Mary, Benjamin, Henry, Samuel. Capt. Nathaniel born 1690. Elizabeth born Apr. 7, 1695. John of Woburn, Mass. married March 18, 1650. Martha perhaps daughter Capt. Edward Johnson had Mary born Feb. 3, 1650 and probably removed.

John of Watertown, Mass. son of Thomas by wife Mary daughter John Adams of Cambridge who died Apr. 3, 1681 had Margaret born Oct. 1676 and died soon.

Anthony removed to Sherborn that part now called Framingham, there had Martha born Feb. 28, 1679. He took second wife, Eliza -- they had Pricilla born Feb. 1683. Eliza born Apr. 11 1685 -- John, Jan. 10, 1687, Thomas, July 22, 1694 -- Mary Jan 4, 1697 -- Henry Apr. 28, 1698 -- Abigail, Mar. 9, 1705. His will was made May 18, 1727. This wife died June 27, 1727 but he lived until Dec. 14, 1773.

Johnathan, Marshfield, Mass. perhaps was son of the first Anthony, more probable his grandson and son of Mark, married June 11, 1682 or 1683 Hannah Truant -- died May 31, 1724 in 69th year.

Justus, Marshfield, Mass. perhaps son of Anthony married May 20, 1661 Mehitable Chillingsworth, daughter Thomas Chillingsworth.

Mark, Marshfield, Mass. probably son of Anthony born in England went with wife, Eliza from Hingham, Mass. where his son John was born Sept. 6, 1649 and perhaps Johnathan 1656. "Was representative in 1662 and fourteen years out of twenty afterward," so says Bayles History.

Nathaniel of Sherborn, son of Thomas by wife, Ann, had Lydia born Dec. 10, 1694 -- Rebecca born July 25, 1697 -- William Richard Rowley 1680 -- Robert, Woburn, Mass. (our ancestor) had been of Charlestown 1651 had by wife, Eliza, Samuel born April 7, 1653 and died soon. John born 1654 died very soon. Elizabeth born June 4, 1659. Mary born June 11, 1661. Pricilla, May 2, 1663. Samuel again born Sept. 2, 1664. Abigail born Sept. 22, 1666. John again May 9, 1668

Barry's History of Framingham p 227 says "The widow Eliza married Capt. William Bond" but I, (Savage) doubt it.

Edward F. Johnson in "Notes on Woburn" says Robert Eames, brother Thomas, and Anthony, married Elizabeth -- she died March 22, 1710. Robert was in Charlestown, Mass. 1651, removed to Woburn, Mass. had rights in common lands of Woburn, granted him in 1688. He died July 30, 1712.

A Margery Eames perhaps was his sister, was admitted to Charlestown Church in 1635.

Robert of Andover, Mass. by wife, Rebecca, had Hannah born 1661 who married Ephriam Foster. Daniel born 1663 -- Robert, 1667 -- John 1670 -- Dorothy 1674 -- Jacob born 1677 -- Joseph 1681 -- Nathan 1685. Commonly this family has spelled their name Ames.

Perhaps Benjamin, House of Congress, 1803 may have been a descendent of Samuel, Sherborn, Mass., son of Thomas, married April 21, 1698. Patience, daughter Joseph Twitchell of Sherborn, had Gershon born Dec. 29, 1698.

Thomas of Dedham, Mass. by wife, Magaret, had John born Oct. 6, 1642 -- Mary born May 24, 1645 and probably other children. John whose death was Sept. 17, 1641 is there recorded, was his son, born May 16, 1641. His wife died and he removed to Cambridge, Mass. Married about 1662.

(Paddleford) Eames

Mary, widow of Johnathan ~~Paddleford~~ had Thomas baptized July, 1663, removed to Sudbury, freeman 1665. Had children Samuel born Jan. 15, 1665 -- Margaret born July 8, 1666 -- Mathaniel, Dec. 30, 1668. Removed to Sherborn in the part which became Framingham. Had Sarah born Oct. 3, 1670 -- Lydia June 29, 1672. He died Jan.25, 1680, having on Feb. 1, 1676 suffered by Indians burning his buildings, killing his wife and some children, carrying others away as captives. His daughter, Margaret who had been ten years taken by Indians married Feb. 21, 1688 Joseph Adams. Six of this name had been graduated at New England College in 1831 and one half at Harvard College of whom Reb. Johnathan, House of Congress 1752, was one. He was at one time minister at Newtown, New Hampshire.

Robert Eames was of Charlestown, Mass. 1651 -- removed to Woburn Mass. Was taxed there in 1666 and had rights in common hands of Woburn allowed him in 1688. I am unable to ascertain when Robert was married or the maiden surname of Elizabeth. From Samuel, sixth child sprang our branch of the family.

Sewell's History of Woburn, Mass. page 609 gives the following dates. Elizabeth, wife of Robert Eames died March 22, 1710. Robert Eames, died July 30, 1712.

In new England Geneaological Register of January, 1908 we find the following concerning Robert Eames:

"Robert Eames of Woburn, Mass. after 1651 died there July 30, 1712. He had previously been a resident of Charlestown. His wife, Elizabeth, died at Woburn, March 22, 1710.

His first homestead at Woburn Centre he sold in 1697 to his son, John. He owned lots in Woburn at Boggy Field in 1694 where he had a house. This estate was in the wellknown Eames neighborhood on New Boston St. where members of the family have resided for upwards of two centuries.

It is possible that he was the Robert Eames who was a soldier in King Phillip's War in 1676 with Capt. Henchman.

This Robert Eames must not be confounded with the Robert Eames of Chelmsford who died there Apr. 25, 1671 naming in a will made there previous to his death, his brother named John and his cousin, Richard, son of sister Dorothy Newman of Farnham Co., Surrey, England. Nor should he be counfounded with the contemporary Robert Eames or Ames of Essex Co., Mass. whose geneaology is given in the Essex Antiquarian, Vol. 3, p.p.88 - 90.

The John Ames who had a daughter born Feb. 3, 1650 (see printed Woburn vital records) is John Ames, his wife was Martha, daughter Capt. Edward Johnson of Woburn. (See Register Vol. 61, p.p. 198-199)

The Dedham printed town records p.153 give this item "1648. 7 mo.4 The Country Rate. Robert Eames 0-2-6." In the same records p.190, under date of 30 of the 10th 1651 "Discounted with John Morse in regard of 2s - 6d lost in ye Countrey Rate by Robert Eames."

The New England Geneaological Register of January 1908 says of this man:

"Jonathan (3) Eames (Sam'l (2) Robert(1) born at Woburn Aug. 18, 1716 married first March 14, 1738 Sarah born Mar. 28, 1719. daughter of Giles and Deborah Roberts. Married second at Hampton, N. H. He removed to Pownalborough (now Dresden) Maine."

Jefferson, Maine observed its centennial August 21, 1907.

A monument dedicated at that time has a tablet on which are inscribed names of twelve of the first settlers of that town. The name of the above Johathan heads the list. Through a mistake, his given name is spelled Johnathan.

Among some records handed down from one generation to another we find the following which are now in possession of Paul Augustus Ames of Auburn, Maine, formerly of Jefferson.

"Wilmington, July 26, 1750. I,the subscriber, James Haywood, Jr. of Woburn, promise to pay unto Johathan Eames of Wilmington for value received, the sum of 170 and 3 pounds, 6 shilling and 8 pence lawful money, on or before the last day of May next as witness my hand. "Then received of this note the sum of 60 pounds 6 pence and 13 shillings and 4 pence, Jonathan Eames."

"Woburn 3d July, 1754. This may certify to whom it may concern that on the date above, Mr. Jonathan Eames and Mrs. Dorothy Richardson, both of this town were lawfully married by me. Josiah Cotton."

Note Rev. Mr. Cotton was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Woburn. He was a graduate of Harvard College.

"Woolwich, Apr. 28, 1779. For value received, I promise to pay to the order of William Gilmore or order, the sum of one pound 10 shillings, on demand as witness my hand. Jonathan Eames."

The will is not dated Jefferson, but there is where it was executed as they lived at the head of Damariscotta Pond. The first house was located near the river, the spot can now easily be found. The signature of Dorothy on the will is written in trembling, irregular hand and looks as though she might have been on a sick bed and very weak.

Children of Jonathan and Dorothy Eames.

Jonathan born in Woburn, March 13, 1755.

Phineas born in Woburn. Jan. 17, 1757. Was Revolutionary soldier Both with their wives are mentioned in the foregoing will, Abiatha was abiatha Richardson. Also the grandchildren, Johnathan and Betsey. So far, I have been unable to find out what became of Betsey (she may have been Betsey Richardson)

Aug/8
Jonathan born 1716 -- his two sons Jonathan Jr. born in 1755 and Phineas born in 1757 left Woburn, Mass. and eventually settled in Jefferson, Maine. (year unknown.)

Phineas born in 1757, father of Phineas, Jr. born in 1784, mentioned above, took up 400 acres of land in Jefferson from the Gov't, for which he paid a small sum. It must have been laid out by some sworn surveyor of good judgment as the original lines are long reaching from the river on the East (Head of Damariscotta pond) and the Vaughn Brook(known as the Meadow Brook) on the West.

Jonathan born in 1755, brother of the above Phineas removed to Madison, Maine and married Thankful Olive Young of Madison, where they settled. They are both buried in the Cemetery at Madison.

As near as can be ascertained, the whole family of Jonathan and Dorothy removed from Dresden, Maine (then called Pownalboro) to Woolwich and thence to Jefferson, it is not known whether they came direct from Dresden to Woolwich and then to Jefferson, but it is thought that they did.

Dorothy was born in Woburn March 31 1733. She was great granddaughter of Thos. Richardson, one of three brothers who came from England in 1633. I am unable to find any dated of death of either Jonathan or Dorothy, but they are both buried on the Island, north of Maplewood Cemetery, East Jefferson. About thirty persons are said to be buried there.

Note about 1845 or 1850 A.D. all the Jefferson families left the E. off their names and since then, they all spell their names, "Ames."

Children of Jonathan and Dorothy (Richardson) Eames.

Jonathan born in Woburn, Mass. Mar. 13, 1755 went with parents to Pownalborough, now Dresden, thence to Woolwich, Maine, date not known. Afterward went from Jefferson and settled in Madison, Maine. At what time, I cannot find out. He married Olive Thankful Young of Madison. They had ten children. Gave his children 100 acres each at time of their marriage. He died Apr. 4, 1814.

Phineas born in Woburn, Jan. 17, 1757 was Revolutionary soldier (Edward F. Johnson's Notes on Woburn) Came with parents to Maine and first settled in Woolwich, afterward at Jefferson. Lived there during the remainder of his life Married Mary Jones. They had twelve children I find the following on their tombstones in Maple wood Cemetery.

"Phineas Eames died Feb. 24, 1834. Mary Jones Eames, wife of Phineas Eames died Oct. 20, 1841."

They were first buried, also some of their children in the field where they lived. A few years later their bodies were removed by the late Edward Jones to Maplewood Cemetery. Mrs. Eames and daughter, Lois had petrified. Both looked familiar.

Children of Phineas and Mary (Jones) Ames.

Jonathan born in Jefferson, Jan. 31, 1783 and died July 10, 1848. Was farmer, never married. Weighed 260 lbs., was very eccentric and a very perserving man. Is said to have been a very strong man -- was fond of skating and at one time when on skates, jumped 22 feet over a raft of logs. Would never return from a fishing trip until he had caught some fish. Has been known to remain at the pond 36 hours before catching any fish. Never would come to meals when busy, was very fond of children and great story teller. Had a wonderful memory.

Phineas born in Jefferson, Sept. 8, 1784 died Dec.23, 1855. Was a farmer and married Nancy Waters of Jefferson, June 1, 1806. She died June 14, 1852. They had twelve children. Phineas was a very easy going man, was very witty, always prepared to answer any questions in a comical manner and could give a joke at any time and was always prepared to criticize anything which came under his observation. Mrs. E. died of heart disease, living only a few minutes after being siezed with the attack which resulted fatally.

When Phineas and wife, Nancy, were first married, they lived with Mr. Eames parents on the farm now occupied by Melser Nash. The foundation of the house is still easily found. Their two elder children, viz. Ruth and Mary, were born there.

Perhaps about 1808 Phineas built his house on the farm recently occupied by the late Lorenzo Meservey and now owned by Henry Cunningham. Said house was 20 ft. square with shingled walls and shingled roof: the boards may have been sawed by hand. The front faced East. (Year unknown) perhaps between 1812 and 1820.

Phineas built the portion called "the new part" 17 x 37 ft. which faced south. The roof was at right angles with the original house. The roofs joined and there was a door between the two chambers: the only entrance to the second floor of house and through the chamber into the new part. In both of these structures the first floor was in heighth to the beams and the rafters were from the beams to the ridge pole, forming sharp roof.

Later, perhaps 1860 to 1865 Jesse Dunbar tore the original house down and raised the walls of the "new part" 3 ft. 8" and put on a new sharp roof and built additions thereto. Phineas built a large barn, about 1810, which was remodelled. Phineas and his son, Charles, making the changes.

In 1837, George Eames, son of Phineas built a structure known as the hog pen, about 22 x 36 ft. George was then about sixteen years old. He hewed all the timber for the above building which was framed by the late William Jones. All these buildings, viz. new part of Phineas' house, barn, and the hog pen are now (1913) standing and in a good state of preservation.

Dec 18 - Jefferson 1924

Mrs. Leroy Ames

The many friends of Mrs. Leroy Ames were saddened by her sudden death which came after only a few days sickness. She was a charter member of the Willow Grange and an earnest and loyal worker, with the good of the order always at heart. She held office for many years and gave freely of time and money. She was also a member and officer of the order of the Eastern Star, and will be greatly missed in the community.

She left a husband and one son.

The last service was held at her home on Dec. 5, and under the order of the Eastern Star was quite impressive.

The family have the sympathy of the community.
